LOOKING BACK

It started with the spirit which led the city fathers in 1859 to allot $20 for a log school house, and has continued until today, when High Point may point proudly to her crowning achievement in education ~ a beautiful, $750,000 senior high school building, opened in 1927.

YES, although the first graded school was not opened until September 20, 1897, we find that long before, the need for education had made itself felt. After that first log cabin came a succession of schools. These were out and out subscription schools, but in 1870, High Point could boast of a so-called "Free School." Where the "free" part came in, we cannot tell, since this happened to be a $20-a-month, three-month-a-year affair. ~ ~ ~ ~ ~

ALTHOUGH it had been felt in varying degrees in former years, the need for a public school really started the ball rolling in 1894. J. Elwood Cox, who had built a spacious home around that time on the site of the present post office, was willing to sell it to the city for use as a school. Upon this offer, an election was held on a $10,000 bond issue. This split the city into two factions; those in favor and those opposed, not so much to the school, as to the city's buying Mr. Cox's "white elephant." Some even opposed the issue on the grounds that it was "communistic," since the government would be creating competition for the private schools in the vicinity. The measure was defeated. ~ ~ ~ ~ ~ won out, and the issue was passed in 1887. The school opened with nine grades, a faculty of twelve, including the superintendent, Mr. George C. Crowell, and the principal, Mr. Cobb C. Lane, and an enrollment of 386. The first graduation took place in 1898 with a class of four, consisting of Miss Estelle Curley, Miss Pearl Idol, Miss Ada Myers, and Mr. Alvin S. Parker.

✦✦ The student in those days had somewhat the same curriculum as the present day scholar, with the exception of music and industrial arts. These departments were introduced later and have become outstanding in the past decade. Our school is said to have the best equipped shop in the state, while music, after its comeback following the depression, has become a credit subject as well as a credit to the community.

✦✦ Looking back at the last fifty years, we see that the keynote then was progress. We must, as future citizens, uphold that spirit so that at the end of the next fifty years High Point will have gone to the very top in the field of education. ~ ~ ~ ~ ~ this book to the great spirit of progress through education, which during these past fifty years has transformed our schools from the frame building of 1897 into the great institution which it is today; and through these pages express the hope that this spirit will never die, but will live on to increase in richness and power, nourished by those men and women who have seen and felt the benefit of a school for which they will always hold fond memories and a great deal of pride. A long way it has come and a long way it has to go. In fifty years from what sort of school system will the students of High Point High School look back to us? We cannot safely forecast the future of education because we cannot realize fully the potential strength of a truly great system. At any rate, we may be sure that it will ever advance forward from mark to mark along the way to perfection.

On these leaves have been transcribed the records, the efforts, and the activities of the 1947-48 student body and administration. These records, we hope, will be exemplary of the past fifty years and will be an incentive to the next fifty and so on, urging each class to establish a slightly higher goal for those who will follow. What better means could there be to keep the leaves of the book of knowledge forever turning? The young men and women of today are the oils to be used in the burning lamp of life whose light eternally creeps along slowly but steadily, revealing that part of this world's natural truths as yet unfathomed by those who have gone before us.

Knowledge is real, the supply is unlimited, so we must realize that the lack of it is poverty; the desire for it, opportunity; the persuance of it, adventure; and the possession of it, success.

FOREWORD

by the Editor

The staff of the 1948 PEMICAN, knowing that education is now the basis of human progress and that a new awakening and interest has arisen in this field, has chosen to make this, the fourth issue of the PEMICAN, an anniversary edition. We desire not only to mark fifty years of progress in our city's educational system, but to create in us the incentive to accomplish as much in the future as in the past by holding on to the memories, and dreams and aspirations of our youth.

Therefore we ask that you look upon this, your annual, as a treasure-chest holding the precious memories of your happy, carefree days at High Point High School.

Bound in these pages is the story of one year of happy learning; in the years to come may it hold for you the cherished memories that it may now suggest to your mothers and fathers.

High Point's first public school, the J. Elwood Cox home to which the pictured right wing was added, stood on the present site of the post office building.

Students today benefit from a fully experienced faculty and self government.

Yesterday's school administration was limited to the school master and his hickory stick.

A school, today as fifty years ago, is a lighthouse, throwing its beams of learning upon all whom it can reach. Although the mode of teaching has changed, student participation has increased, enrollment has been enlarged, and the curriculum expanded, school itself has not changed in spirit. It will always remain the same as we knew it; a place where the principle pastime is the pursuit of knowledge as a road to happiness.

THE ADMINISTRATION

Administrative

Mr. Charles F. Carroll, superintendent of the city schools, has won, by his simple dignity, admiration from both parents and students.

Mr. Charles F. Carroll, our superintendent, is a versatile, friendly person, ready to give of his time to those who wish to consult him. Since he began his administration in March, 1937, a great many marked improvements have taken place in the High Point High School. Mr. Carroll, who was a varsity man at Trinity College, likes anything pertaining to sports, but is especially partial to golf. He is also prominent in community life, being a past president of the Rotary Club. In addition to these and other varied activities, our superintendent is best known as a public speaker.

Miss Anna Mendenhall can certainly have it said of her that she has served the school to the best of her abilities. From teaching algebra three periods a day to fulfilling the duties of girls' dean and general counselor, she has more than enough to keep her busy. She is the one to whom students turn when, during the course of the school year, they find that they need advice or have some problem connected with school activities. They are never disappointed, because one of her greatest joys is helping students make good.

Miss Anna Mendenhall, girls' dean, holds the respect of every student in that she is considered teacher, counselor, and friend.

Officers

Mr. D. P. Whitley, our principal, has a record of over ten year's service at High Point High School. During this time he has become a popular figure with both students and faculty by his helpful, sympathetic attitude. Although he is an extremely active man, he is never too busy to work on any student problem, no matter how small. It is this interest in school activities which has made H.P.H.S. one of the finest in the state. These have surely been successful years under his guidance.

Mr. D. P. Whitley, our principal, is a favorite among students for his congenial method of supervision.

Mr. Nile F. Hunt, student counselor, is one of the newest and most popular additions to the faculty of High Point High. When at some time during our school career, most of us find that we are confronted with problems pertaining to our school curriculum, he will gladly help us meet and overcome them. By thus pleasantly assisting students, he has won the esteem of all who come in contact with him. Although he spends much of his time exercising his duties of student counselor, Mr. Hunt is also a capable shop instructor.

Mr. Nile F. Hunt, dean of boys, claims the esteem of every student through his sincere counseling and deep interest in youth and their activities.

Faculty

Mrs. Johnsie Jackson, school secretary, renders "service with a smile" to the entire student body and faculty.

Mrs. "J's" Joy

On preceding pages we have read of the founding of our high school. Once founded, however, a school must be kept running smoothly; this is the duty of our school secretary, Mrs. Johnsie Oakes Jackson, and her staff.

Most students do not realize how much work is involved in keeping the main hub of H.P.H.S. operating. Twelve competent girls and one boy are constantly answering the phone, issuing textbooks, filing record cards, and performing similar duties for Mrs. Jackson, who says that without them she would be lost and the school would probably be completely out of order.

As for what they think of "Johnsie" . . . all agree that with her constant good humor and friendliness, it is a pleasure to work for her.

Of the People

Setting as its first aim to arouse school spirit, the student government, headed by president Charles McConkey and vice-president Betty Jo Hedrick, started the new school year with vigor and determination.

The lower house, composed of representatives, from each home room raised its status financially by selling school pennants and football badges and sponsoring a talent show as well as out of town programs. The funds raised helped send delegates Charles Simmons, Jackie Meekins, and Charles McConkey to the Elizabeth City State Student Council Congress held in the early fall and Joe Aaron and Charles McConkey with the upper house sponsor Miss Louise Hunter to the National Student Congress Convention in Corpus Christi, Texas.

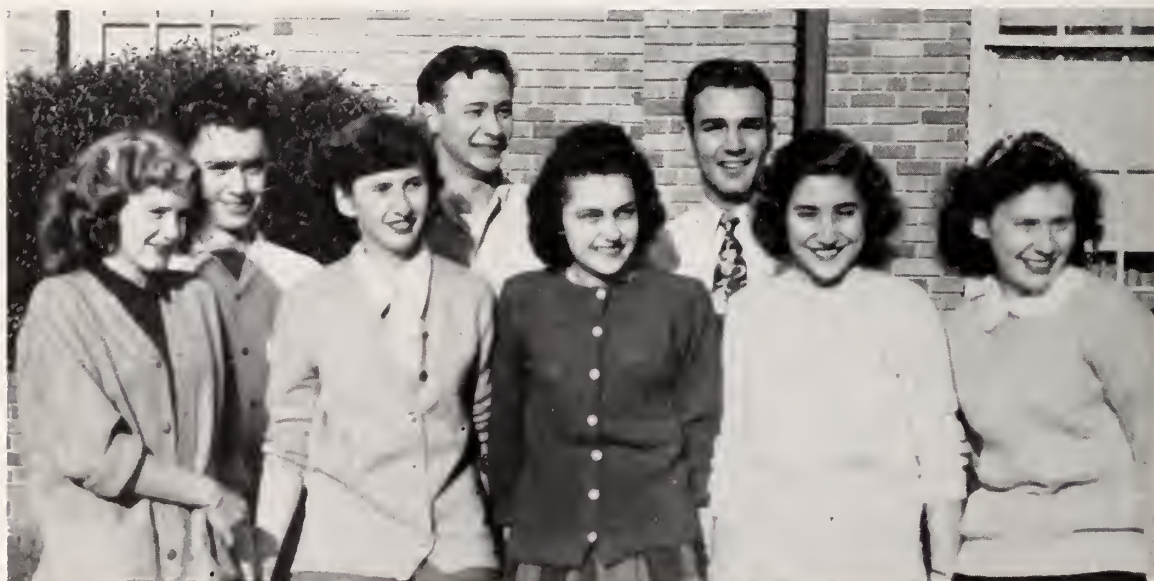

The lower house published for the first time in its history monthly bulletins that acquainted students with issues presented at the regular Monday morning meetings.

The annual social standards conference held in the spring which wound up student government activities for the year was a memorable success.

Charles McConkey, president of the student body, with scintillating personality and determination, led the school through another successful year.

For the People

Betty Jo Hedrick, vice-president of the student body and Speaker of the House, not on the job, for a change.

Schoolrooms today have the best in modern facilities.

Schools of yesterday were often roughly equipped.

Progressing from emphasis on administration to more individual freedom, the public school today has steadily advanced from a formal institution to a “proving ground” for democracy. The portraits on the following pages symbolize the greatest natural resource any nation may hold, in that youth is the clay which is to be molded into a classic statue, serving as a pillar for our democratic form of government.

THE CLASSES

Senior class officers are making merry with president Jud Ruth plinking the ivories as Kenneth Ingram, vice-president; Barbara George, secretary; and June Smith, treasurer "give a little rhythm."

Fresh Alumni

The senior class of 1948, the fifty-first to graduate in the history of H.P.H.S., has certainly lived up to the standards set by its predecessors.

With adviser Ralph Vance, an early start was made with the formation of an executive board from whose slate the following class officers were elected: president, Judson Ruth; vice-president, Kenneth Ingram; secretary, Barbara George; and treasurer, June Smith. Following class elections, Sharon Finch, niece of Richard Crowder, was chosen class mascot.

Other activities of the class were to select sixteen superlatives, and choose fifteen seniors to take the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship examination.

We were particularly proud of Dick Davenport, International vice-president of the Key Club, and Dolly Hedgecock for her work with the state and national 4H Club. We were also envious of Charles McConkey and Joe Aaron, who went to a student council convention in Texas and Mexico, as well as Betty Jo Ring, who attended the National Scholastic Press Convention in Cleveland, Ohio.

Bouquets are also due to the fifteen seniors who were honored by having a biographical sketch in the 1948 High School Register.

"Tiny but tops" little Sharon Finch swayed the hearts of senior class members to become mascot.

Top left: "Best dressed" people usually come few and far between but Nancy Black, Charles McConkey, and Nell Black are three of them—and close together.

Our 15 "Wheels"

Most students, upon first entering high school, are filled with the determination to make good in some field . . . to be a "wheel" in the machinery of school activities. Although many never attain this goal, there are always some who surpass it. Who's Who is one way of paying "homage" to those who are truly outstanding. These lucky seniors, who were chosen by a faculty vote, have a short biography of themselves in the High School Register, which is published annually. In this sketch, will be a record of all their high school activities which will serve as a future reference for employers or colleges to which these students may apply.

The "49'ers"

Junior class activities started off with a boom this year, namely, the election of officers. Controversies, friendly disagreements, and oratory, all so typical of this class, climaxed an exciting election by inaugurating Jon Barnes, president; Betty Faye Hedgecock, vice-president; Joyce Burrows, secretary; Bobby Younts, treasurer; and Jackie Meekins and Paul Conrad, representatives to the upper house of the student council.

The junior play, "A Date With Judy," which was presented in November instead of the spring, was a tremendous success indeed. Hilarious Judy Foster, portrayed by Jo Ann White, along with Bobby Baird's sarcasm as Randolph, and the roaring of Bobby Younts as Father brought torrents of laughter from the eager audience.

Climaxing the year's activities was the Junior-Senior Prom which was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended.

To a fellow sufferer
Ralph Albert.

Wise Fools

The Greeks called them "wise fools" . . . we call them sophs; but whatever the name, we may rest assured that the sophomore class is on its toes, just itching to "go places." Consisting of over 400 students, this class began scoring soon after school began. On the first play officers were elected, the winners being Doris Craven, president; Tommy Lentz, vice-president; Joan Crowder, secretary; and Jack Willis, treasurer. Already over the line were representatives to the upper house, Gordie Maxwell and Fred Farmer.

Next, the magazine campaign was carried out with more than the amount pledged. The money was used to pay for the PEMICAN pictures and the Freshman-Sophomore Prom.

As the year ended and the score was totaled, the result was that the sophomores were out in front with victory, success, and outstanding ideas for the class next year.

One Step Over

Last September, 329 freshmen came to High Point High determined to become an integral part of life in our school. Their first step in this direction was the election of officers. Bobby Bundy was elected president; Jack Kay, vice-president; Betsy Chernault, secretary; and Rachel Leonard, treasurer; Gladys Hall and Cyrus Brooks, upper house representatives.

Under the supervision of the adviser, Miss Louisa Hatch, the class participated in the selling of Curtis publications, the money being used for the Freshman-Sophomore Prom and the class pictures in the PEMICAN.

Taking account at the end of the year, the freshman class may well be proud of itself, for it has achieved its ambition . . . it has become a full fledged member of High Point High School.

Students today take a joy ride in a jeep for granted.

In 1903 cars were possessions of only the fortunate.

In contrast to students fifty years ago, we have the facilities, opportunities, and encouragement for participation in the operation of our school. Today we have organizations emphasizing music, speech, and other talents which one may wish to develop. The grasping of these opportunities makes the difference between an excellent and mediocre student.

I hope fellow you're a great help

As the spirit of education in 1897 left us its lasting contribution, a public school system, so we, in another sense, offer to you an enduring memorial to your school days, the 1948 PEMICAN.

The greatest credit, of course, belongs to those of the editorial staff who worked faithfully until the final dummy was in the printer's hands. They were Tommy Garst, the doting father of our character; Sarah Shaw, whom you can blame for the feature section; Suzanne Earnhardt and Betty Jo Hedrick, who racked their brains over cut lines; Sophia Steffan, copy editor, who had her hands full of "scraps" and trouble; Bean Campbell, sports editor; Heywood Wahburn, engraving editor; Dick Davenport, who filled the offices of janitor, head rib-tickler, and associate editor; and last, Max Thurman, who is just learning the trade.

Two members of the staff to whom we owe much are Alton Embler, who is responsible for almost all the pictures which the PEMICAN contains, and Rodger Snyder, who, with his well chosen business staff, competently held up the business end.

Last come our editor, Betty Jo Ring, without whose superior ability this annual could not have been produced, and Miss Dorothy Hollar, who has given so unselfishly of her time and advice.

Rodger Snyder, business manager, with advertisements completed and contracts thrown away, finds time to sit back and smile at the rest of the world.

Honor Society

With its traditionally beautiful ceremony as a background, the National Honor Society inducted 19 deserving seniors on January 7, 1948. Those tapped had double reason to rejoice, however, for not only did they receive one of the greatest honors that may be bestowed on a high school student, they were also given their Honor Society pins as proof of membership. Since it had been the custom in the past for each individual to purchase his or her own pin, this was indeed a noble gesture on the part of the old members.

A high degree of success marked all the undertakings of the National Honor Society this past year. Making these achievements possible were the faculty adviser, Mrs. Rogers, and a fine slate of officers headed by Amanda Gekas, president. Rounding out the slate were vice-president, Ralph Tilden; secretary, Sophia Steffan; and treasurer, Jeane Walton.

As a means of raising money, the society undertook two principal projects. First was the selling of stationery, and second, the sale of personal cards in the spring.

The State National Honor Society Convention, which proved interesting as well as educational, was attended by members of the local chapter who thoroughly enjoyed their trip and brought back many helpful suggestions.

Following the adage that we must practice what we preach, the Honor Society held regular meetings for the purpose of discussing its qualifications, laying particular stress upon character. These discussions, which were also taken to the student body through various channels, were well received and proved beneficial to the school at large.

Climaxing the activities of the Honor Society each year is the eagerly anticipated Honor Society Service Award, which this year was given to Betty Jo Ring.

"Don't say it, write it," suggest Jayne Roach and Paul Hardin, determining their financial status after a hard day of selling Honor Society stationery.

Our Beta Club

Banquets, parties, and an annual state convention were on the agenda for the Beta Club this year, proving that there is more to an honorary scholastic society than mere scholarship. Under the leadership of Miss Emma Milling, faculty adviser, the club, which is composed of only juniors and seniors, was very active this year.

Early in the year an educational survey was made, compiling information concerning colleges the seniors will attend, planned professions, and similar data, which provided the school with valuable statistics. Highlighting the year's activities was the annual Beta Club Convention, which was held in Raleigh this year.

Each year upon graduation, members who have made an average of ninety two or above during their four years in high school are honored by having their names inscribed on a silver plaque displayed in the library.

through the Beta Club Journal to which they may contribute.

Officers for 1947-48 were Paul Friedman, president; Billy Stutts, vice-president; and Joyce Kearns, secretary.

Key Clubbers

Once again the High Point "edition" of Key Club International has turned in a very creditable performance. Meeting at the Asia Restaurant every Thursday night, the "chow munge" addicts have managed not only to down the Chinese dish, but have dished up enough work for the "brothers" to last them for some time. They have set as a goal for themselves the renovation of the high school track in order that the conference speedsters and jumpers may have a fine field on which to perform.

In addition, they are raising money with which to pay a scholarship to college for some worthy boy, and have taken it upon themselves to clean the school grounds.

Starting the year with a bang, the local club played host to the organizing convention of the Carolinas District. After completing the paper work that goes with organizing, and not being opposed to the opposite sex, the club gave a big dance for its guests. Much of the success of this convention was due to Dick Davenport, International Key Club vice-president.

As the Christmas spirit lit up the angelic faces of the students, the club sponsored the annual sale of Christmas trees from which all proceeds went to the scholarship fund.

Later in the season, the club held its annual Mother's Night during which the boys were Mom's beaux for the evening.

The Pointer

Another spoke in the wheel of activities that revolves daily around life at High Point High is an old and well established institution—The Pointer—the school newspaper.

Although actual production got off to a late start, at first about two weeks were spent in classroom study during which Miss Muriel Bulwinkle, Pointer adviser, carefully placed before a comparatively "green" crew the fundamentals of journalism. Meanwhile, an enterprising business staff was busily scouting the town for ads to help finance the publication.

The all-important position of editor-in-chief was assigned to an experienced junior, Marilyn Robinette. Aided and abetted by Paul Hardin, managing editor, and Judson Ruth, associate editor, the three were constantly searching for new ideas, that is, between issues. Daily, during sixth period, Tony Teachey and Frank Slaydon, sports editors, generally could be found en route to the coach's office gathering material. Chief "nose for news hounds" were Don Thurber and Jackie Meekins, news editors. Betty Jo Hedrick, feature editor, Jo Kimsey, Betty Sue Coletrane, Mazie Strickland, and Carolyn Andrews duly claim greatest part of the credit for the feature section. Chief headliner Paul Friedman completed the staff which wrote the paper.

On the business staff, chief hustler was Gladys Linthicum, assisted by staff members Shirley Gallimore, Max Shoaf, Robert Ladehoff, Hubert McCain, Suzanne Slate, Margaret Little, and led by Mrs. Walden, business adviser. Katherine Hester served as circulation manager.

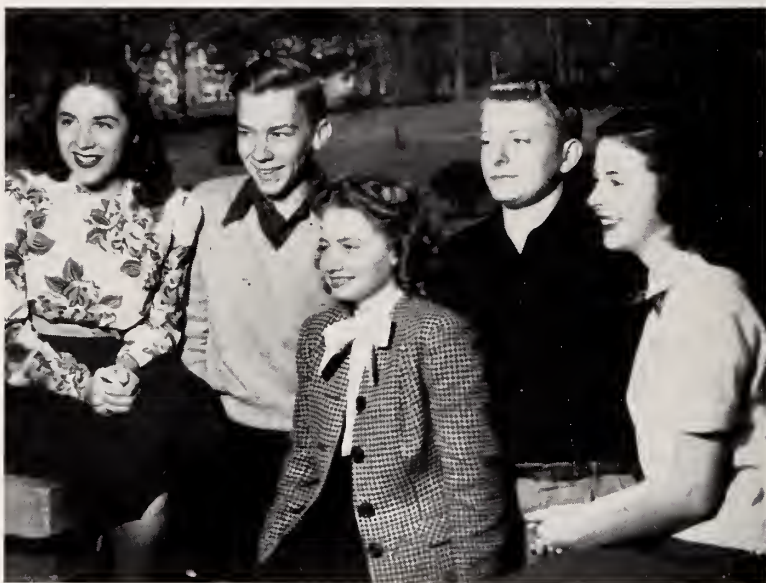

Gladys Linthicum, business manager, gives a last minute check-up of her pride and joy, the advertisements, before the presses begin to roll.

At the December Masque and Gavel inductions Barbara George reads the names of the new inductees. Old Masque and Gavel members are seated in the background.

Speeches, acting ability, and an ever ready flow of words is all it took to become a member of the Masque and Gavel Society at its annual induction on December 3, 1947. This organization, which strives to promote achievement in speech, has behind it an interesting record.

High Point High School became a charter chapter of the Masque and Gavel in 1941. This young group worked so enthusiastically, that by the end of the second year, our school was one of the three schools in the nation selected as having the best all-round chapter activity. As a result of this achievement, Miss Ruth Goodman, the faculty adviser, served as national president for two years.

This past year, the Masque and Gavel was again very active. It provided speakers for the High School World Peace Contest. One of the members, Dewey Greer, was placed second in the state finals of the "I Speak For Democracy" radio speaking contest.

Y-Teens

Talks and discussions on the Arts, Preparation for Marriage, Jobs and Careers, Poise and Personality, Personal and Family Relations, and Religion have been the varied programs for Y-Teens during this year. Outside these programs, in the individual clubs, the Y-Teens have participated in the Cancer Drive and in the March of Dimes campaign.

In August, 1947, a southern regional conference of Y-Teens was held at Camp Illahee near Brevard, North Carolina. Barbara Lee, Peggy Culler, Helen Gariss, and Betty Jo Hedrick, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Hollar represented High Point.

The North Carolina State Y-Teens Conference was held in Raleigh November 14-16. Those attending from High Point were Barbara Lowe, Peggy Rose Stevens, Betty Lou Underwood, Dolly Moser, Joann Wright, Lorene Kivett, Mary Lee Church, Rebecca Dickens, Susan Sink, Peggy Alexander, Shirley Rae Gallimore, Marcia Church, Jo Ann Lowe, Billie Ann Slate, and Helen Martin. All these girls came back with their heads full of ideas and have worked to bring about better relations in their clubs.

The senior Y-Teens have a monthly supper meeting at the YWCA with their adviser, Mrs. Frank Marks. Similarly the juniors have had a number of suppers where they have learned to cook Italian spaghetti from their adviser, Mrs. John Birkner, who has just recently arrived in the United States from her former home in Italy. Other advisers are Mrs. Dorothy Cheshbrough who directs the sophomores and Miss Betsy Dixon, who in addition to being Y-Teen director is freshman adviser.

Forensic League

How the Debating Club, otherwise known as the Forensic League, has managed to survive the current period of indifference to debating is a mystery to some people. To the members of the club, however, this is no puzzle, because they know that, no matter what the odds, as long as there are some who love an argument, there will always be a debating club.

Not only has this organization survived with its small membership, it has really "gone places" this year, having debated many schools in the vicinity of High Point as well as its annual opponents in the Triangular Debates. The team taking part in the latter was composed of Jackie Meekins and Sophia Steffan on the affirmative with Drewry Greer and Kent Jackson taking the negative. Clyde Garrison and Jeane Walton were alternates. The query was Resolved: That the Federal Government should require arbitration of labor disputes in all basic American industries.

The capable officers who, along with the club adviser, Miss Gladys Watson, have made possible the successful season of debating were Sophia Steffan, president; Nancy Snider, vice-president; Jeane Walton, secretary; and Jackie Meekins, program chairman.

Wishing to become a member of the National Forensic League, the club is trying to obtain enough points in speaking to make this ambition a reality.

Alert and active officers of the Forensic League are, sitting: Jeane Walton and Sophia Steffan; standing: Jackie Meekins and Nancy Snider.

Monogram Club

One of the recently organized clubs in High Point High School is the Monogram Club. This new organization was formed with the purpose of prompting and upholding the highest athletic standards and creating a closer bond of fellowship and loyalty among lettermen.

Membership in this organization is available to any letterman of High Point High School. All members are admitted upon the recommendation of the coaching staff and are then accepted by vote of the club.

Heading the five man executive board of the Monogram Club this year were Nelvin Cooper, president; T. C. Isom, vice-president; Charles McConkey, secretary; Bill Campbell, treasurer; and Bill Hunsucker, sergeant-at-arms.

The Monogram Club, aided by the Key Club, was responsible for the football programs for the home games during football season this year.

Our F.H.A. Girls

Just imagine spending a week at White Lake! The Future Homemakers and their advisers attend this camp each year during the month of June. This organization, which is made up of students studying home economics in high school, gives girls opportunities to develop leadership, to broaden acquaintances, and to become state and national officers of the Future Homemakers of America.

The High Point chapter has been organized and directed this year by Miss Mary Ella Ingram. Among the successful money making projects undertaken by the girls was the sale of Christmas cards.

Delegates from our chapter attended the district meeting held in High Point at which Maxine Farlowe was elected state parliamentarian.

Singing Strings

With an average membership of 45 participants and an almost complete symphonic instrumentation, the senior high orchestra gives three performances a year. The orchestra again entered the annual North Carolina Music Contest at Woman's College in Greensboro this year, where, for the past several years, it has received the Class A rating of one.

Responsible for this outstanding success was Miss Virginia Frank, who took charge of the orchestra in 1937, unselfishly devoting her time and efforts to presenting a better group each year. Ably assisting her are the concert master and mistress, Donnie Silver and Amanda Gekas.

Development of a love and taste for the world's standard repertoire, and the achievement of individual and group excellence in performance are the main objectives of the orchestra, along with helping develop the student's total personality and providing the community with performances when needed.

Lilting Lyrics

"Fair are the meadows; fairer still the woodlands," a soft hum, and reverent silence from the audience—so begins the theme song of the A Cappella Choir. This song, with its religious, earnest mood, is typical of a choir which, under the direction of Carl G. N. Constedt, has become one of the most creditable assets of High Point High School.

The A Cappella Choir, organized in 1940 by Mr. Cronstedt has long been known for the unity, spirit, and co-operation of its members. It was through this co-operation this year that the choir sang for outlying communities, as well as local civic clubs and leading churches.

One of the outstanding highlights of the Christmas season was the annual presentation of the "Messiah" by the combined choruses with local soloists participating.

Leading A Cappella activities were Buddy Vaughn, president; Sonny Connor, vice-president; Barbara George, secretary; and Vivian Baisey and Dot Kendall, co-librarians. Section leaders were Betty Jo Smith and Ruth Ellen Monroe, soprano; Sophia Steffan, alto; Paul Hardin, tenor; and Skip Vaughn, bass.

On Parade

The trumpets sound and the drums roll. Our High Point High School band moves with precision on to the muddy field, where it is beginning to feel very much at home. With the last strains of the "Washington and Lee Swing," the band files off with the satisfaction of a job well done.

But wait, let us go behind the scenes. Each afternoon, Monday through Friday, weird and lost chords may be heard escaping from the music wing until, under the direction of Julian Helms, the chords are found and brought into harmony. From here, the band proceeds to the athletic field, where the formations are worked out in detail and rehearsed. With the leadership

Mr. Helms, who hails from Charlotte, has the enthusiasm and ideas for the makings of a real band. This was particularly evident when the band was asked to represent North Carolina by putting on the half-show at the Shrine Bowl game.

Following the presentation of several varied programs, it participated in the State Contest where it received high rating awards.

Black Bisons enjoy extensive sports with standard uniforms and a capable coaching staff.

Makeshift uniforms and inadequate coaches composed the sport's department of yesterday.

The cheers of the spectators, the thrill of singing a school song . . . this is where school spirit begins, for athletics signify the love of living as well as the enthusiasm of youth. When the first public school was opened, one of the needs felt most keenly was that of a physical education program. That need has been realized, for today, the athletic is one of the most extensive as well as popular departments in High Point High School.

'47 Football

Although the Black Bison of 1947 did not roll up an impressive record of wins, it must be handed to them that they did fight, mostly in the mud, since a great percentage of the games were played under the downpouring skies. Having won three games and tied three, they did not let the four defeats go so easily.

Coaches Tony Simcon and Carroll Bowen led their charges to a 7-0 victory in the opening game at Reidsville. End, Bill Hunsueker, caught a pass from T. C. Isom after a drive to the two yard line, while highlighting the game was Bill Ellington's 70 yard punt from behind his own goal line.

In the second start, the local team outplayed a highly favored McCallie Prep from Chattanooga, Tennessee, but fell victim of the "sleeper end" play and had to settle with a 12-12 tie. The following week our team traveled to Durham, bringing back another tie, this one being a 6-6 count.

Burlington's powerful Bulldogs rolled over the Locals 25-6 to score the most decisive victory of the year. A 55 yard pass from Bill Ellington to Charlie Jones netted the lone touchdown for the Pointers. The next two games were "heart-breakers," losing only by one touchdown to both Lexington and Salisbury.

In the peak performance of the season, the blue clad Pointers scored early and held Charlotte Central, conference champion, to a 6-6 deadlock in the mud of Memorial Stadium. It was then that they lost the services of T. C. Isom, who suffered an ankle injury. Maintaining their pace, they came back to roll over Asheville 26-12 before a crowd of High Pointers.

Next came our arch-rivals, the Whirlies of Greensboro. The Bison jumped to a 14-0 lead early in the game, but fell victim to the Whirlie's passing attack and wound up on the short end of a 21-14 score. The season ended with a decisive 13-0 win over R. J. Reynolds of Winston-Salem.

Many of our players were honored during the season. Richard Crowder was named on the all-conference team with Bill Campbell and played in the first Shrine Bowl game which originated in High Point this year. Isom and Campbell were named the most valuable back and linesman by the popular vote of the community. At the football banquet Jim Allen and Kenneth Yarbrough were named co-captains of next year's team, while Bill Campbell received the most valuable player award by virtue of the team's vote.

State Champs

Called by many as one of the greatest basketball teams the state has yet produced, the greatest team High Point High School has ever turned out, climaxed a brilliant season of play by capturing the coveted N. C. State Championship crown.

The Black Bison, in having the most fruitful season of any local squad, tasted the bitterness of defeat only once in twenty-eight games and this came at the hands of a non-conference foe at the Mid-South tournament in Greenville, S. C. However in this same tournament the Bison basketballers bounced back to wallop Wilson and bring back the consolation trophy.

Led by co-captains Richard Crowder and Billy Ray Hunsucker the local cagers started the season playing championship ball which continued throughout the hazardous schedule, indicating to those fans who knew the sport that this was High Point's year.

Starting the ball rolling by entertaining several non-conference foes, the locals played the part of the impolite host by severely trimming their invited guests. Continuing their winning ways, the Bisons ran up a string of victories over conference and out-of-the-loop foes, including Duke and Davidson J. V.'s and a highly rated Carolina freshman team. Thus when the Mid-South tournament came along the team had racked up an impressive 19 game winning streak. But came the slip and Greenville nosed out the local aggregation by one point, so the High Pointers brought back the consolation trophy.

After the tournament the Bison completed their schedule and incidently became the champions of Guilford County by defeating their old rivals Greensboro, not once, but twice. High Point emerged on top of Western Conference with a perfect record of 14 loop wins. Playing in the state tourney in Durham the locals hustled their way through the first round by defeating Raleigh 55-41, then in the semi-finals the Bison turned on the heat and knocked off Wilmington 54-44 and earned the right to meet Wilson in the finals. Wilson played hard, but the Bison played harder and Wilson came out the losing end of a 44-41 game. The High Point Black Bison were State Champions.

Individually the Bisons had everything. Crowder topped the scoring column but was closely followed by Harris and Hunsucker. Incidentally these three boys were placed on the mythical all-state team of which Crowder was acting captain. But to us the whole team was all-state. Cooper with his great all-round work, Ellington and White coming through in the pinches with their outstanding floor play all made our all-state team, which was not mythical. These were our all-state, N. C. State Champions.

Gal-listhenics

The return to school in the fall marked the beginning of a very successful year in girl's physical education under the capable leadership of Miss Ann Upchurch.

Following the outdoor sports of soccer, tennis, and archery in the early fall, it was necessary to come "under cover" for a while. Basketball season, highlighted by intramural games had finally come, creating great interest among the students. Turning the tide, general interest turned to dancing, including waltzing and folk dancing.

Spring opened the door once again, through which these "cager beavers" willingly passed to regain the freshness of the out of doors. Most enthusiastic participation was in tennis, archery, and softball. "Never a dull moment" could certainly be applied to girls' physical education.

Boy's Fizzie Ed.

One of the outstanding features of our school curriculum is the athletic department, which has one of the best physical education programs in the state. With the opening of school, classes were held on the athletic field where tag football predominated. Daily calisthenics were a regular part of the program to build the body physically as well as mentally.

As the weather grew colder, the classes moved inside, where basketball was the chief interest, along with wrestling, boxing, tumbling, and gym exercises.

In the spring, things really began to roll with softball and tennis in the spotlight. Also on the program were field and track events, and volleyball.

The capable co-ordinator of this program was Coach Tony Simeon, athletic director and coach of football and basketball.

Under the watchful eye of coach Carroll Bowen, the 1947 Bison baseball fortunes played exceptionally well last season despite the lack of experience. The diamond crew came through with six victories while taking nine setbacks against top flight teams.

The two successful games against Burlington and R. J. Reynolds were followed by two defeats to Mt. Airy and Burlington. Jimmy Rickert pitched a no-hitter against Salisbury, but lost, however, on an unearned run in the last inning.

Representing High Point on the North Carolina All-Star team was Nelvin Cooper, who with Don Huber, Jack White, Don Hooper, and Bob Adams rounded out one of the finest infields in many seasons. "Slugging" Tommy McGhee led the defenses in the outer garden, capably assisted by James Thomas and Rodney Wells.

Baseball scores for the 47 season were:

High Point 3	Burlington	10

Bison Boosters

Under the capable leadership of Miss Ann Upchurch, High Point High's peppy cheerleaders accomplished a great deal this past year. In addition to enthusiastically leading cheers at all the games, these six girls and one boy sponsored the successful homecoming parade and also a dance at the end of the football season for the team.

Over the Net

Winning nine out of twelve matches, the 1947 Black Bison tennis team enjoyed its best season in many years. Hubert Barrier, city champion and one time state champion, and Jake Steele coached the net men.

The roster of the tennisters in order of their position is as follows: Robert Shackleford, Alton Embler, Raeford Halker, Eddie White, Gene Dillard, and Donald Saunders.

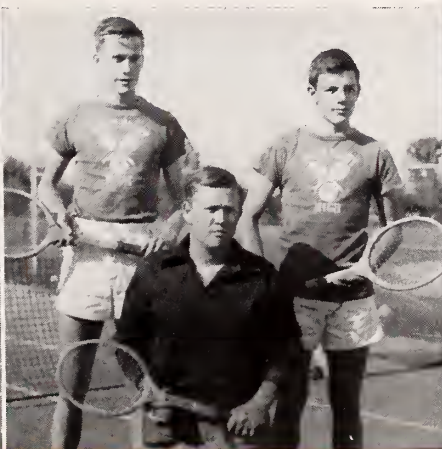

In a city wide tournament this summer, Robert Shackleford became senior city champion, while Alton Embler won out in the junior bracket.

'47 Tracksters

Although having failed to defend its Western Conference Championship, the 1947 track team turned in an impressive record. Credit belongs to coach Bert Ishee, who turned out a well rounded squad.

Starting off the season, the Bison trackmen turned in a sterling performance, copping a dual meet from their rival, the Greensboro Purple Whirlwind, on our athletic field. This meet was a "first" for many of the boys.

Next came the triangular meet with R. J. Reynolds of Winston-Salem and Greensboro. Our boys came through with a victory again, still keeping a clean slate. The scoring was well divided since most of the tracksters broke into the scoring column.

The sprinters and distance men proved their merit when, for the second time in as many years, they walked away with top honors in the Queen City Relays held in Charlotte.

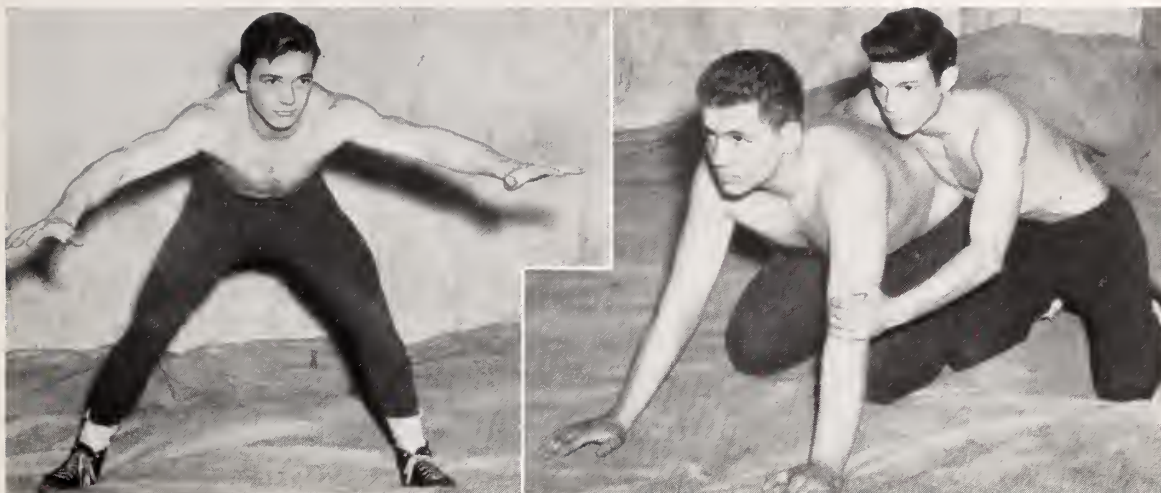

In a hotly contested meet, Charlotte Central defeated the favored Bison, taking the conference crown. The Locals led throughout the meet until the final event when the official disqualified one of our players, giving Charlotte the crown.

Dewey Beek and Richard Reid took first place in the high hurdles and javelin throw, respectively, capturing 5th place in the state meet.

Grunt 'n' Groan Artists

Social life at High Point High School is broad and well-rounded.

Social calendars of yesteryear were filled with "home" and dancing.

Laughter over a shared joke, the comradeship resulting from mutual interest, the thrill of school spirit . . . these are a few of the experiences we have in common with the students of 1897. Yes, there is one aspect of school life which has not changed with the years.
Recorded on the following pages are some of the little incidents you will remember best, chuckling in later years,
“Those were the days.”

FINIS

So many small unnoticed things go into the production of an annual, yet each is as vital to a good yearbook as work is on a larger scale, therefore we wish to thank all who had a part in making the 1948 PEMICAN a reality.

Especially to Miss Dorothy Hollar who gave so unselfishly of her time and energy to come to the aid of our entirely "green horn" staff, and to Mr. Whitley, Mrs. Jackson, and all faculty members who co-operated and were graciously tolerant with us, we can only say a sincere, "Thank you."

We wish to express our appreciation also to each individual on both business and editorial staffs whose untiring efforts were the oil that kept the wheels of production turning.

Much praise is due to Alton Embler whose constant effort in producing better pictures has been an incentive to the rest of us to strive for perfection; to Dick Davenport, our associate editor; Suzanne Earnhardt and Betty Jo Hedrick, industrious printing editors; Heywood Washburn, engraving editor; Sarah Shaw whose camera is responsible for catching the variety of shots in our feature sections; Tommy Garst, the staff artist; Bean Campbell, sports editor and especially to Sophia Stefan who complied and edited our copy and to all those who assisted her.

We wish to express our deep appreciation to Mr. Gordon Brightman and Mr. Bob Ihrig of Jahn and Ollier Engraving Company and to Mr. William Oliver Smith whose ideas and suggestions were so invaluable to us.

To all those who were instrumental in giving us the opportunity of working on the PEMICAN we say thank you so very much for the experience and opportunity to do something for High Point High School.

We enjoyed it.

READ
before you decide on your profession

DURING the next six years, half a million teaching positions will be available in the United States. Thousands of men and women are needed to replace inadequately prepared teachers now in the schools, to fill the vacancies caused by normal turnover, and to meet the needs of the five million additional children born during wartime. There is a need for elementary and high school teachers, college instructors, principals, superintendents, and educational specialists of every kind.

Now you know the law of supply and demand. When your kind of training and ability are needed, offers for it are made more and more attractive.

That is what's happening in the teaching profession. Many communities are taking steps to improve their local school conditions—some are granting salary increases—some states are establishing definite minimum salaries for teachers.

The ability to teach is a special gift, a valued talent, and no profession provides greater personal satisfaction than teaching. If you are a "born teacher"—make your decision now to join this honored profession. For "Our Teachers Mold Our Nation's Future," and America's future has need of you.
